How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

During the reporting period, the Fund generated positive total returns.

The positive movement in its underlying PLTR allowed it to capture some upside.

Selling covered calls or covered call spreads allowed the Fund to capture extrinsic time value available for distribution to shareholders while offering a portion of the upside capture.

It is worth noting that the Fund was not live for the entire reporting period.

What Factors Influenced Performance?

The implied volatility of the underlying index plays a significant role in the amount of extrinsic premiums that can be paid by the Fund. During the reporting period, the underlying PLTR saw higher implied volatility.

As a rule, the higher the implied volatility, the higher the option premiums available for sale and distribution.

Since the Fund has downside risk of the underlying, taking in premiums helps offset negative moves where an investor in the Fund would potentially expect to lose less over a period.

Conversely, investors may forgo a portion of the upside which is an expected trade-off in exchange from capturing option premiums.

Positioning of the Fund

The Fund aims to generate high current income for investors looking for alternative yield options in the marketplace with the ability to sell covered calls and/or covered call spreads, all while having the ability to capture a portion of the upside movements of the underlying stock.
